This is a fillable PDF file. You can type information directly into this file.

Dear Depositor,

Thank you for depositing your strain at NCMR. As a part of our routine work we ask you to check the strain held in the NCMR against the strain you have preserved in your laboratory. This comparison will help us to ensure that the strain held at NCMR, which will be distributed to the scientific community, is identical with the strain you have used in your laboratory. However, if the strain received from NCMR for depositor's check is clearly a different strain, please send us a replacement strain.

The strain deposited by us at NCMR, Pune with the following PRN:

Accession number: _____ has been received for checking.

We have compared the strain received from NCMR with our original isolate/data and find:

that the strain preserved at NCMR is identical with the strain held in our laboratory.

that the strain preserved at NCMR is not identical with the strain we originally deposited.
